Effective date: 22 November 2026

(TRUSTLEAD™) a registered trademark of Allied ITCIM Pvt Ltd

1. Purpose and scope

This policy explains the permitted and prohibited use of the TRUSTLEAD website and its online facilities. By accessing or using the website, visitors agree to use it responsibly and in accordance with applicable law, the website Terms and Conditions and other relevant published policies.

2. Lawful and responsible use

Users must use the website only for lawful purposes and must provide accurate information when submitting forms, making enquiries, registering or using any account facility. Users must not misuse the website or interfere with another person's access or rights.

3. Prohibited activities

Users must not: attempt unauthorised access to any account, server or restricted area; probe, scan or test system vulnerabilities without permission; introduce malware or harmful code; disrupt or overload website services; use automated tools to scrape or extract data in a manner that harms the service or violates applicable terms; submit fraudulent, defamatory, abusive or unlawful material; impersonate another person; or use the website to facilitate fraud or unlawful activity.

4. Account security

Where account access is provided, users are responsible for keeping their login credentials confidential and for activity carried out through their account, subject to applicable law. Users must not share passwords or OTPs, attempt to access another person's account, or bypass authentication and security controls. Suspected compromise should be reported promptly through the official contact channel.

FOR WEBSITE USE ONLY

5. User submissions

Information, documents, images or other material submitted through website forms must be lawful, accurate and relevant to the stated purpose. Users must have the necessary rights and permissions to submit such material. Do not upload malicious files, unlawful content, confidential information belonging to others or unnecessary sensitive personal information.

6. Intellectual property

Website text, design, graphics, logos, trademarks and other materials may be protected by intellectual-property laws. Users may view and use website material for ordinary personal or legitimate business enquiry purposes, but must not copy, modify, republish, distribute or commercially exploit protected material without prior permission, except where permitted by law.

7. Links and third-party services

The website may contain links to third-party websites or services for convenience. Those services may have their own terms and privacy practices. TRUSTLEAD does not control external websites and users should review the relevant third-party terms before using them.

8. Monitoring and protective action

To protect the website, users and company systems, TRUSTLEAD may apply reasonable security controls and review relevant technical records where lawful and necessary. Suspected misuse may result in access restrictions, account review or referral to appropriate authorities where required or permitted by law.

9. Availability and changes

The website or particular features may occasionally be unavailable for maintenance, security, technical or operational reasons. TRUSTLEAD may modify or discontinue website features and may update this policy. The latest version published on the website should be consulted.

10. Reporting misuse

Users who become aware of suspected security issues, fraudulent activity or misuse of the website should report the matter through the official contact channel and provide relevant details without attempting to exploit or further investigate the issue.
